I have visited Dr. Lighthili at the McLure cure of Deafness and noises in the ears, with which I have suffered for four years; and can say that I have been greatly benefited by its use, although I have applied it but

Well Attested Cure of Catarris.

DR. A. P. LIGHTHILL—DEAR SIE:—Your treatment in the cure of my Catarrh has had the desired effect, and resulted in permanent good to me, although my case has frequently been pronounced incurable, and I had exhausted all other modes of treatment, without the least benefit. My case was so chronic and troublesome, that by giving a few of the symptoms the value of your treatment can be more readily settimated. For years I had been afflicted with a constant cold in the head, obstructing my breathing so as to necessitate me to keep my mouth open during sleep; latterly the discharges became solidified and impacted in my nose to such an extent that it required the greatest exertion to expel them. Sometimes these haraened lumps would get in my throat causing me to hawk and scrape even by the hour to relieve myself. My breath was offensive; my memory became impaired. Dizziness and light headiness made their appearance, and of late symptoms of paralysis stepped in, and when I placed myself under your care one side of my face was badly affected by this dread disease. My general health suffered alike, there was a constant; tired, drowsy and debilitated feeling, with no energy to move or act; fleit astired on rising in the morning as I did on going to my bed, my appetite was capricious and my disposition morose. In that condition I placed myself under your care, and am happy to state that all those disagreeable and dangerous symptoms have entirely left me, and I once more enjoy the benefits of good health.

By giving this publicity you will benefit others similarly affected and oblige me. Yours truly, James Sommerylle. Well Attested Cure of Catarri.

BUTLER VS. SCHENCK. The Butler Advance on Schenck—The Advance Meets the Enemy in Force

Butler to Come on. Letters of Gen. Boynton in the Cincinnat Guzette, WASHINGTON, March 23. The Whisky ring is in intense com-motion. The surmises of a previous letter concerning the Butler-Schenck unpleasantness, and which have enter-iney have reason to believe that he did not confineshis telegraphic researches to this city, but that he studied records in Baltimore, New York and Cincinnati. It was given out at the time that Butter, in his raid upon the telegraph files, was only allowed to reason to be a second to the second in his summons requiring the company to produce their files. Now the ring appears to have satisfied itself that he was not as modest as they hoped; that once where the letter books were he took copies of every thing which his keen faculties suggested would have a future value. There are other rings besides the whisky men who just now are wondering whether he confined himself exclusively to whisky, or whether he gave his distinguished attention to them as well.

But of one thing all seem to be satisfied, and that is, that Butler has dispatches enough to unravel half the rings of the country. No wonder there is a fluttering. No wonder there are trembling hands, and pale faces, and failing hearts.

ailing hearts.
With all this information in his po session, will Butler move? Some of the cool headed ones say he will not dare to take a step. They base their confidence upon what is now known of his operacation with whisky men, and that one of these swore he drew a clause in the Revenue bill for Schenck, in the inter-Revenue bill for Schenck, in the interest of whisky men, and that he was in with them. To this Schenck's friends answer that whisky men were very proper persons to consult about whisky, and that it was possible for them to draw bills which should have provisions just to the manufacturers, dealers, and the Government alike.

On the other hand, General Schenck's friends tell him that he can prove a friends tell him that he can prove a great number of very unpleasant things against Butler, and that his own guns can be turned upon him with fatal effect. For instance they tell the General that Butler agreed to discharge the converges witness summaned before the Im-FRED. DOUGLASS and other black men propose to start a newspaper in Washington. Fred had better go into the white washing business. Howould make more money, and doubtless do better work.—Philadelphia News.

Yes, Fred might become a rich man between a Western revenue agent and Mr. Woolley, we're withheld from the public gaze. It is further alleged that a round sum was paid for getting the case into such a shape as to render Woolley's discharge possible. Then certain witnesses say that some of their teatimony, which was given at a comparatively early period of the investigation, was not taken down at the time, as they believe, because it went to show that certain whisky men had not been as active in the matter as Butter thought, and especially that they had had no dealings with General Schenck.

Then, in addition to all this, the fact appears at last that there was some very important evidence taken concerning Senator Pomeroy's connection with early attempts to defeat imposed.—There has been much quiet talk about this for a number of months, and among those who do not consider it heresy to

The witnesses who gave the evi-dence which related to Senator Pomedence which related to Senator Folicary before Mr. Butler can be reached by General Schenck, even if it is found that any of it has been burned up, as some uncharitable gentlemen suppose. If there was really a consideration given for letting the witnesses before alluded to go unexamined, or for finally discharging Woolley himself, it is fair to suppose it possible himself, it is fair to suppose it possib himself, it is fair to suppose it possible that Mr. Pomeroy may have diverted some of his railroad bonds, or patents for land grants, from the purpose specified in the bills which enabled him to secure them from the public treasure.

It is very easy to see from all this what an interest the people have in getting this light fairly opened. Once begun, there are many hidden rascalities which must inayitably come to light.

The Association of Lake Underwriters of Ontario intend taking proceedings against the American Marine Insurance Companies doing business here, without depositing the necessary which must inevitably come to light.

Just now the situation is this: Although Butler made the first threats, Schenck has come to time, laid a chip on his shoulder, and stands daring the boy Ben, to knock it off.

Mr. Conkling argued generally against the bill.

Mr. Wilson defended his proposition, and incidentally expressed the opinion that the present financial condition of the country was satisfactory, and that the national debt would soon be made a very light burden by a rapid development of the national resources.

I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of mediclines, but regarding the practice as out my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined, but with r io u s instances, my own family, of the many own family, of Hoofland's Germany own family, of Hoofland's Germany own family, of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fall; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.

Yours, very respectfully,

J. H. KENNARD,
